To the r/NCD folks:

February 12, 2024 by Ratbat

Their are currently two people, one named Cathode, and one named Gadenkarensky, they spam your military reddit weekly with my porn. I think they do this in part because I never advertise, or show this stuff outside of small circles. It's understandable that you probably just want to have a choice in whether or not your feed has disturbing shit in it or not. For that, I am sorry. I didn't know that this had been going on for as long as it did. These guys really like my work and the shock value does bring people to my doors.

If you are indeed shocked, and are wondering what's up, consider the plane sex to be a form of robot porn like Transformers ect, (it's basically porn for Aesexuals with a mostly SFW comic to explain part of the Lore that goes with.) Know that I do not advocate for anyone actually going out and having sex with their cars, or anything along the same lines.

I made this stuff because I'm crazy. I have a specific mix of monster, and mechaphillia fetish. I enjoy the aesthetic of military war machines. The kind of powerful, Dangerous equipment that evokes that same feeling of "Mecha" you get from an Armored Core game.

Why do the machines have anime eyes? Probably the same reason why you folks might call a generic anime girl wearing a Pakfa backpack an "Airplane".. Aesthetics maybe. But In the end all of this stuff is kinda stupid.

Anyway If you are here, welcome. Tell a friend.

Hey Ratbat, we've never formally spoken before. I found your blog ten years ago and it's always occupied a part of my brain since then. Alot has changed since then. I came out and started transitioning, moved across the country, and traveled around quite a bit. I got back into the mecha as erotic with the release of AC6, and it almost feels like returning to the womb? There's more than a few of my irl friends now who are also Into this. Machine as gender, of a machine as a type of creature, as transition allowing yourself to become machine, as machine being erotic. Anyway, you are a beacon of inspiration. Keep up the good work.

@... Camo jock Heeey Thank you for the kind words :') because I felt really really alone for many years in these thoughts. Knowing people actually DO like what i do is validation that putting it all out there did bring mechaphiles closer. I think machine as a creature type is totally valid this day and age with 70 years of sci-fi under our collective belts. The Golden age of robot anime may be over, but in games The Machine thing is strong. Machines can exude these very masculine traits without it being strictly a man too. ::thumbs up::

Hello Chikara, Do they get a lot of airshows up in Whales? Or is everything wrapped up into RIAT each year?

Shock value did bring me to this blog LOL. I was once with friends and one of them became curious if there was porn of machines so they looked it up and some of your pieces showed up! They were shocked as I was but it did awake something in me so I kept digging until I found this blog! And to be honest, I love it a lot!

I don’t think we have ever formally spoken, though I first stumbled across your website early 2015. I wanted to say, as a fellow lifelong machine lover and mechano/monster porn enjoyer, that I’m sorry the internet has been so shitty as of late. I feel this for myself in my own ways. I keep joining new groups, new discords in hopes the spaces will be more reminiscent of the ways they used to be, but they never are. It seems like genuine respectful enthusiastic dedicated nsfw spaces for things like living machines is long since dead, or else filled with people who are barely older than a minor. I hope you can find some peace and better company soon

I feel this. Especially the part about folks being barely older than a minor (no disrespect ofc). I have had to deal with this often, especially persons who make fetish their whole identity. If you slow down, or stop posting porn for longer than an hour, they will spam channels with all manner of unrelated off topic porn. Then they beg you for free art (unpaid labour) and then fuck off back to xbox live until you are needed again. The kind of persons who need to be “Constantly” entertained, and it’s not as chill anymore, like you said. But I don’t think there ever was a chill chat for LM to begin with. The community is way to small/distracted to hold itself together. It also runs precariously adjacent to real mechaphiles (who actually bang their cars)and I can’t personally be around that either. You are welcome to come say Hi on the mukbang if you like?

Hi ratbat, I recently found your website (through places unrelated to reddit) and have been fascinated and enamoured with your concepts since. Not just the nsfw stuff, the world and lore of dire machines is so fun to think about. I’m usually a robot/eldritch monster phile and train enjoyer (platonically?) But your art is quickly winning me over on war machines.

Other than that you're one of the very few artists who draw female-gazey porn that fulfills the exact weird fantasies I never knew I needed lol
Keep doing what you do, shock value and weirdness be damned, because there is sincerity behind it, that will reach the like-minded crazy people like me out there haha

@Clown The female gaze (outside of the cute varieties of vampires/werewolves/centaurs ect) "feels" fairly elusive these days. Thank you for the really nice compliment!
Im actually super happy that I could entertain you. Bring you strange ideas to chew on, and borrow. (Obviously I didn't create LM, but told as an Alien invasion story, its pretty decent even without the fetish stuff). Aside from that, Eldritch monster is some of the finest flavor there is (I gotta find a way to play Bloodborne for my lovecraftian loving ass).
Where did you come from btw?

Ah yes thank you for the new ideas, it inspires me to try drawing more machines. I finished reading the comics so far and I love how they all interconnect. Can't wait to see how it ties together in the overall story. As for Bloodborne the ps4 emulator is making good progress on emulating it so hopefully soon! (This is the game that started me on such a strange path…)
I found some of your pics on a small imageboard. That's all I can say without outing myself haha

Hey, this stuff is not stupid, odd sure, but not stupid. I love your art and wish I had the spare dosh to have commissioned you. One day maybe, but until then, don't you Dog on yourself! Especially since I really like your comic stuff and the setting even if it is just a reason for the adult stuff!

@lorventus: Hey hows it going since last time? About this stuff being "stupid", I'm pretty hard on myself. Its the "Wheel of self-deprecation" I must escape for all of our sanity lol. Few people choose to draw machines for fun outside of model box covers, pencil studies, and sci-fi concept art. Even less do people depict these things with any kind of agency either. It makes me feel kinda super alone Btw. Like their is something wrong with me for doing this over more lucrative subject matter. Absolutely thank you for the kind words about the comic (I am about to drop a new fix page this week, things are slow going.)
My overall intent is to find a way to give people who like the story, but not the porn, a choice to engage without it. Like it should be weird and cool on it's own. Perhaps this is salvation?
